

Privacy Policy

Rockwell Properties collects data—including identifiers like name, contact details and financial information for rent processing, and employment history for leasing applications—to provide comprehensive property services. This information is used strictly for our business purposes such as verifying identity, facilitating lease agreements, managing maintenance requests, and complying with legal obligations. We do not sell your personal information, and data is only shared with essential service providers such as background check agencies, or as required by law.

If you have consented to receive text messages from Rockwell Properties, you may receive messages related to appointment reminders, maintenance follow-ups, and any inquiries. Please note that phone numbers obtained specifically for SMS will not be shared with third parties or affiliates for marketing purposes.

Message frequency may vary depending on the type of communication and your specific needs. Please be aware that standard message and data rates may apply based on your carrier's pricing plan, and these fees may vary if messages are sent domestically or internationally. You maintain full control over these communications and can opt out at any time by replying STOP to any text message you receive or by contacting us directly for removal. If you experience any issues or require assistance, you may reply with the keyword HELP or contact us directly at rockwellproperties.com for support.

We retain your information as long as necessary to fulfill our service obligations or meet legal requirements. You have the right to request deletion of your information where applicable. For any questions regarding this policy or to exercise your privacy rights, please contact our team at rockwellproperties.com.
